

SERESIN ESTATE SAUVIGNON BLANC 2014

MICHAEL COOPER

4.5*

“This is one of the region's most sophisticated, subtle and satisfying Sauvignons. It's also one of the most important, given its widespread international distribution and certified BioGro status. The grapes are grown in the original estate vineyard near Renwick, and in the company's younger vineyards, especially Raupo Creek, on an elevated slope in the Otago Valley. The wine (which includes 5 to 9 per cent Sémillon) is mostly fermented in tanks with indigenous yeasts, but 15 to 20 per cent of the blend is fermented and lees-aged in seasoned French oak casks. The 2014 vintage (a «««½) is typically rewarding. Light lemon/green, it is medium to full-bodied, with good intensity of melon/lime flavours, a gentle hint of oak, a dry finish (3 grams/litre of residual sugar), and excellent complexity, harmony and personality.”
